Reports.

The French bark Auffredy reports left Cape St. James on the 5th, and had splendid weather throughout the voyage.

The British steamer Manuelita reports made the passage from London under canvas, experienced pleasant weather to the Equator, which was cut in long. 23.28 W. on the 24th December; had the S.E. light and unsteady; passed Cape of Good Hope, in lat. 39.30 S. on the January 21st, experienced light Western winds running down the Easting, sighted St. Paul's on the 5th February. On the 17th, made every preparation to encounter hurricane, which was judged to be travelled S.W. of the brig's path. Communicated with the Ned. barque Cermelita and Ida with barometer broken; lost S.E. in lat. 16 S. long. 102 E. on the 19th Feb., thence to Sunda N. and N.E. winds; made Java Head on the 25th Feb.; in the Java sea experienced lightning, thunder, and torrents of rain; in Banca light variable airs and calms; found the wind in China sea light from N.E., after crossing the parallel of Paracels the breeze freshened, and a Westerly current was perceptible. On the 9th April, off Padaran, communicated by signal with a French ship displaying H.K.J.T., Saigon to Yokohama.

KWONG-SHING Shop, at Queen's Road West, Hongkong, and SHANG KEE, Foreign goods shop, in Canton, were established in the 11th year of Hsin fung; the partners were WONG-CHEE, WONG-LUEN, WONG-CHI, WONG TING-YOW, and WONG-YOW, these were divided in eight Shares, of which WONG-YOW held one Share. As the KEE-CHEONG-WING shop in Hongkong, and KWONG-KEE, Foreign goods shop in Canton, closed their business since the 2nd moon, leaving many debts due and unpaid in Hongkong, and as the said WONG-YOW was a shareholder in the ownership of the two shops, his one share in the business of the said KWONG-SHING and SHANG KEE shops has been settled, and the capital and interest and profit arising out of his one share have been paid over to Mr. CALDWELL, Solicitor, for distribution among the Creditors of the said KEE-CHEONG-WING and KWONG-KEE. There are now only seven shares in KWONG-SHING and SHANG-KEE shops, and the partners are the undersigned. The interest of WONG-YOW in the said two shops has therefore ceased, and in future all the business, goods and debts of the said two shops will be managed by the undersigned.

Arrangements have been made, by which Telegrams from China may be sent to Egypt, Europe, and America by the new route.

The above Companies' system of Telegraphs will consist of Submarine Cables between India and Great Britain and France and of a Land line through Italy, all to be worked by English Clerks under one management; thus avoiding the delays and irregularities necessarily incidental to Land lines through semi-civilized countries.

The Chartered Mercantile Bank of India will receive deposits of not less than £25, to be applied to the payment of Telegrams sent by this Company's line.

Firms in China having already a deposit account with the Bank of Egypt can have the balance transferred to the Chartered Mercantile Bank of India by instructing the Bank of Egypt to that effect.

Depositors will have to send their messages under cover to the "Telegraph-office, Galle," addressed in the following manner:—

A (Sender's name)——————STACEY.
HONGKONG BOMBAY.
B, LONDON (Receiver's name and address)
——————(Text of message.)

The Telegram will be sent on re-addressed in the following form:—

A B HONGKONG LONDON.

The sender will thus have to pay for signalling the two extra words "Stacey, Bombay," only between Galle and Bombay.

Arrangements have been made with the Indian Government for all messages addressed to the British Indian Company, or to the undersigned, to be sent from Galle to Bombay without prepayment. The trifling loss occasioned by having to send these additional words over the Indian lines may be avoided by giving directions in writing to the undersigned for all messages to be addressed in a given way, in which case the receiver's name and address need not be signalled in the text; but while undertaking to use every care to prevent mistakes, the Company could not in this case be responsible for the consequences of any error which might arise in addressing messages.

The local Indian charge, as well as this Company's through rate from Bombay, will be deducted from the sender's deposit with the Chartered Mercantile Bank.

The Chartered Mercantile Bank will render a periodical statement to each Depositor, showing the amounts withdrawn from his account, and the balance in hand.

The Bank Officials will not see the messages, but will be furnished by the Company with a printed receipt for every message paid for through a Depositor's account.

Firms in China having Agents in Bombay, and not desirous of opening a deposit with the Chartered Mercantile Bank of India, will have to give direction for their messages to be sent "Via Red Sea," if they wish to avail themselves of the British-Indian Company's route.

HONGKONG, APRIL 22ND, 1870.

THE Maloo Tea question appears likely to become one of considerable interest and importance. It is understood to be likely that the authorities in England will seize the whole of this valuable cargo, or at least take steps to prevent its being consumed in the country. The loss that will result from this will be of so serious a nature that no doubt every effort will be made by those concerned to diminish it; and at first, it may be assumed as probable that the Continental markets will be tried. As, however, it is by no means impossible that people on the Continent will have quite as strong objections as those in England to being poisoned, the likelihood is that the tea will find its way back to China, and that some attempts will be made to obtain restitution from the Chinese sellers. If this course be adopted, some rather interesting questions will no doubt arise, and the cases before the Mixed Court will be of a somewhat curious nature. The chief danger, however, to be anticipated, is that the Maloo mixture will, on its return to its native land, find its way again to the Foreign market, re-mixed with better teas, so as to hide its nature; and that the tea consuming population at home will have to eat their peck of dirt; though, thanks to the intervention of the authorities, they will, in accordance with the proverb, be spared the necessity of eating it all at once.

THE Returns of Trade at the Treaty Ports of China for the year 1869, which have been issued by the Imperial Maritime Customs, present many features of interest. The manner they are compiled in is simple and concise, and an accurate notion of the trade may be gained with very little trouble. The general style in which they are publish-ed, as usual, reflects much credit upon the Customs' Printing Department at Shanghai. The main features of the trade for the year 1869 are as follows: The total value of the Imports and Exports at all the Treaty Ports was deducting re-exports Tls. 142,069,189 in 1869, against Tls. 149,007,189 for 1868; and the amount of the Duties collected by the Foreign Inspectorate of Customs Tls. 9,940,172 for 1869, against Tls. 9,425,656 in 1868. The division of this trade in reference to countries is in round numbers as follows: Great Britain, 121 millions; the United States, 11 millions; the Continent of Europe, 4 millions; Siberia and Russia, in Kiatcha, 2 millions; Japan, 3½ millions; and the remaining half million to sundry countries. Of the total trade, it will be thus seen that 85 per cent. is British; 8 per cent. American; about 3 per cent. to the continent; 1½ per cent. to Siberia and Russia, and one-half per cent. to smaller countries. In Cotton goods, there is an increase, the value of the total Imports in 1869 being Tls. 28,000,000, against Tls. 23,000,000 in 1868; Metals show a slight increase, the figures being Tls. 3,660,834 for 1869, against Tls. 3,418,648 for 1868. Grey Shirtings show a falling off in value, though there is an increase in the number of pieces, the returns being for 1869 4,299,416 pieces, value Tls. 10,212,406; and for 1868, 4,768,151 pieces, with a total value of Tls. 11,007,875. A like remark applies to White Shirtings, the quantities in 1868 and 1869 being nearly identical, namely in the former 572,172 pieces, value Tls. 1,655,393; and 1869, 571,400 pieces, value Tls. 1,521,060. The increase in the Imports is to be found mainly in the items of T-Cloths and Drills. Of T-Cloths, the total import in 1869 was 3,106,561 pieces, value Tls. 6,120,067; against in 1868, 2,049,521 pieces, value Tls. 4,040,639. Of Drills, the quantity imported in 1869 was more than double that of 1868, namely, 819,336 pieces, against 400,485 the previous year. In Metals, the most noticeable feature is the item of Lead, of which 210,000 piculs were imported in 1869, against 141,000 piculs in 1868.

It is unfortunate that, with regard to perhaps the most important article at the present time, namely Opium, an error has crept into the Returns, which requires explanation. In the Return of Imports (page 8), the total Import of Opium is put down 55,926 piculs, value Tls. 27,572,211 for 1869, against 52,915 piculs valued at Tls. 26,127,869 in 1868; but in the detailed statement of the Opium (at page 13), the Import for 1869 is returned as 53,310 piculs, at a value of Tls. 26,282,501; so that it is not clear whether the importation has been on a par with the year 1868 or has been 2,000 piculs, representing a value of Tls. 1,300,000, in excess.

A feature of special interest is the large increase in the trade from Hongkong during 1869, as compared with the previous year, the amount of Import and Exports being Tls. 34,000,000, against Tls. 24,000,000 in 1868, and only 22,000,000 in 1867. The highest total amount of the trade between Hongkong and the Treaty Ports since 1864 was in the years 1865 and 1866, when it reached Tls. 28,000,000.

The above figures do not present any very marked points for notice; as, though there is a small increase in the total trade, it is not sufficiently large to afford grounds for congratulation, seeing that the increase between the years 1867 and 1868, was no less than Tls. 13,000,000. It is, however, satisfactory to find that in the most important part of the trade, manufactured goods, the returns keep up with previous years, and that in the article most steadily consumed by the Chinese, namely, T-Cloths, the import in 1869 was 50 per cent. over that of 1868.

THE San Francisco Minstrels announce a farewell performance this evening, where "Good-bye John" is to be sung for the last time.

IT is interesting to note, with reference to the new Convention, that at all events a portion of the Chinese believe in this change of the growing trading facilities, as orders for considerable quantities of foreign goods were sent home on account of native merchants, on the provisions of the Convention becoming known to them.

THE broad burgee of Commodore Price received the customary salute yesterday, at 8 a.m. Captain Stanhope, of the Ocean Flag-ship (pro tem.), holding a commission of anterior date to that of the Commodore, the burgee of that officer cannot be exhibited as the outward and visible sign of office until Captain Stanhope quits the Port.

The Overland Mail states that an expedition is fitted out in London for Shanghai, representing the marine insurance companies and Lloyd's underwriters interested in the £50,000 specie, sunk in the wreck of the ship Hamilton Mitchell, of 1,200 tons, which foundered in the China seas, about 50 miles off the entrance of the river to Shanghai, in August last, for the purpose, if possible, of recovering the treasure. The expedition is under the direction of Mr. Lodge.

An interesting incident is related with regard to one of the Student Interpreters in Hongkong. It appears that a lady from Pekin, who speaks the Northern Dialect with fluency, began a conversation in that delightful language with one of the promising young students in the Government service. As a matter of course, the gifted gentleman could not understand a word that was said, and it is stated that things increased H.E. the Governor, that he at once despatched him of to Canton to improve his knowledge of the language. It is to be feared that studying the Canton Dialect will be found a rather difficult mode of mastering that of Pekin.

POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

BEFORE C. MAY, Esq.
April 21st.

CUTTING AND WOUNDING.

Lo Achong, of Kwicabie, a farmer, charged on the 20th March last past, with cutting and wounding, by stabs, Chinese police constable, Ubee Ayee No. 28, on the 20th of July, 1869, was again brought up, and committed for trial at the criminal sessions of the Supreme Court. This long interval of remand was owing to the fact that witness in the Government Civil Hospital, while the wounds he had received were healing. Ubee Ayee said that about 8 p.m. on the 20th July, he was going to visit a number of Chinese constables on board the fishing station at Jardine's, that it was a moonlight night, and when he arrived at the beach at Salt Bay, he had met the prisoner and two other men coming in the opposite direction. He had previous knowledge of Lo Achcong, at the time he was a gardener at Chin Sedaye, and he resided in the village Chim-tse-choy, in Kowloon. On that occasion the prisoner had said to him as he passed, "Where are you going?" to which he had replied, pointing Eastward, "I'm going that way." After that he had continued his way and went down to the water's edge and called a boat. Being low tide, and the water very shallow he had sat down upon a rock to take off his shoes and stockings, in order to wade out to the boat which had answered his call. He had a bundle with him, wrapped in a handkerchief, containing three jackets and 300 cash. He was about to put his stockings into the bundle, when he looked up and saw the prisoner, about 15 feet from him, in the act of throwing a stone at him, the stone being, as it appeared to him, about three or four cattie weight; by this stone he was struck upon the breast. He had started up, and on the instant a man on the land got behind him without his knowledge and stabbed him on the left side of the back, upon this he had made an outcry, "police foot," and at the same time felt himself again stabbed—this time on the left arm, but by which of the two men, who were then both behind him, he did not know. He had continued crying out for the police, and saw the police boat, and also the police from Jardine's coming, he had jumped off the rock also, and left his bundle behind him. At that time prisoner and his two companions ran away, the man who ran towards the main road, who, called by constable Ross, and was tried at the criminal sessions of the Supreme Court in August, and convicted, the prisoner and other man ran towards the Jossehouse at Hoong-fa-long, and escaped. On the 22th March last, he was in the police boat on duty off Tsoong-hoo-man, near Hoong-fa-long, and being close in to the shore, he had seen prisoner walking on the beach, and after some time in pursuit he had caught him, and on his way to the boat the prisoner had offered him compensation for the property he had lost. He had taken him to the police station. Charles Ross, P.C. No. 39, and Cheong Ahloy, W.P.C. No. 87, corroborated the evidence of the first witness, whose wounds were exhibited in court in the course of his narrative. The prisoner, who was duly cautioned in accordance with requirements of Ordinance No. 6, of 1864, stated that he wished to make his defence before his Worship. He denied ever having attacked the witness, but in the first month of the current year he was employed in a garden at Tsoong-lo-wan, and had seen the first witness playing with a Hakka girl, and he had cursed witness away, in consequence of his interference without but brought this false charge; the girl's name was Ah Sei, she lived at Tsoong-kwan, but he was not acquainted with her. He had no witness, for there was no other person present than the girl, the witness, and himself.

CHARGED ON SUSPICION.

Mahomat Bakmeker, of Bombay, Indian cook in the Government Civil Hospital, was placed in the dock, and Mr. Edward Burbidge, wardmaster as above, stated that on Tuesday last he had given prisoner items of coin and jewellery, which he enumerated, stating their value to be about $50, and contained in a box, which prisoner was to place in his strong box, witness having lost the key of his chest. Prisoner slept at the same room with witness. He had been a patient in the hospital, but had been taken on as cook at $5 per month and his chow-chow. He had been there about eight months, they had been occupying the same room half a dozen days, and he decided that he had occupied it before he went to sleep there, it being in reality prisoner's room; he had been obliged to remove his bed into that room, because of a gentleman occupying his proper quarters. The compradore lived in the adjoining room. On the morning of the 20th instant, as he was going out, about 11 a.m., he had asked prisoner if he wished to go out, and his reply had been "No, as he had no money." At that time he had seen him lock, and had got prisoner to give him two $5 notes; he had put back the money into the box, and locked the chest. At the time he had four $5 notes in the chest, so that he had received two of these, there were two left. About 9 p.m. he had returned to the hospital, changed his clothes, and gone on duty. Prisoner was not there then, but about 10 p.m. prisoner came to him in the wards and said that some one had broken open his chest, and taken witness's money and some of his clothes. At 10 o'clock on the 21st instant, prisoner had come to him, and taking him outside the hospital wall, pointed out a bundle which he said contained the clothes he had lost. He picked up the bundle, and put it into his room. Witness believed he could prove prisoner had lost a quantity of money in one of the gaming houses.

Remanded till the 25th instant.

VIOLENTLY DRUNK.

Miles Thomas Watts, of Ireland, seaman of steamer Ann, was charged by Chun Aso, clerk in the "Ti Cheung," with having entered that establishment, for the purpose of a cheque at half the p.m. of the 20th inst., and therein flourished about a bamboo stick, breaking lamp glasses to the value of thirty cents. Joseph Salisbury, P.C. No. 325, stated that on his way to the Police Station with prisoner, he had visited T.P.C. No. 325 to put the prisoner in a cell, and that he was very violent, and had torn his coat, and damaged it to the value of $2. Penjaub Sing, T.P.C. No. 325, stated that on his way to the central prisoner halted, and it required the assistance of another constable to retake him and convey him to the station. Defendant pleaded alcoholic influence, of course, and that he was fined $2, in default three days' imprisonment, and ordered to pay 30 cents amends to the shop, and $2, miners $1.75, to P.C. Salisbury.

OBLIVIOUS.

Christian Thorsen, of Norway, having become so intoxicated as to fancy he lived a little everywhere, and having confessed to that condition of drunkenness wherein memory, locality, and the like fail him, and comparison disappears, was fined $1, in default two days' imprisonment.

NO PASS.

Low Ahim, a wealthy painter and shopkeeper in Wellington Street, was charged by I.P.C. No. 144, Abbis, with being in the Queen's Road, at the cross roads, about 10 p.m., without a pass. The following sing-song rather would have had the effect of altering your view of the incompetency of the Acting Superintendent of Police, and, I must admit, I felt great disappointment as I did not receive some notice at your hands. In the midst of my despondency, you sang your ditty with whatcheery I read the report of my candidate in your issue of Tuesday last. Indeed, it will be unnecessary to go beyond the first three or four paragraphs to prove that the Acting Superintendent of Police, C. Vandaleur Creagh, is possessed of a master-mind. What young man, let me ask you, placed in a responsible position in an insolvent concern, and where for the credit of the company a favourable aspect of affairs was required, could have conceived so unique a method of amusing their guys, they set to work blaming the place, flattering themselves that they would not, at home, have committed the errors they are conscious of having fallen into. It is not unlikely at all events that she should take a business or a long period, as she was in the habit of going to and fro, as these persons notoriously are.

Mrs. Bowyer said she was connected with a troupe of Negro minstrels at Hongkong called the San Francisco Minstrels. She denied the contract sworn to by the plaintiff. The receipts produced, on which Mr. Hareland laid stress, as corroborating his client's story, because there was a blotus explained by the fact that whereas the $80 were paid in advance monthly, the $95 were paid in arrear under the contract, the defendant explained by saying that she had paid $80 for three months, or a cheque at all for the third of them. There was a receipt, however, covering the time for which defendant alleged she had paid the third $80. This she said was a mistake on the part of the plaintiff. She had given notice as a monthly tenant, on the 30th December of her intention to leave. She had on the 6th February, therefore, the rent having been paid up to that date, she alleged there was no more due.

The case was then adjourned till Tuesday next.

In the following cases judgment went by default:—Chun-a-noo v. E. Molloy, $36.85; Leong-a-fat v. Leong-a-yow, $13.86; Leen-fat v. Rangel, $8.40; Leen-hok v. Pech, $32.00; W. Wutts v. G. H. Bennett, $10.00.

The following were settled out of Court:—Pestonjee Dorjee v. Myuna Josing Khan, $8.23; Chun-sum-chong v. M. Muller, $25.33; W. Brandt v. Ah Kong, $26.05; Wong-teen-yee v. F. Berger, $26.60; A. Boyer v. F. Berger, $347.93; W. W. Driscoll v. F. Berger, $100.7.

PLUMP FOR CREAGH!

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS."

SIR,—I had hoped that the strong recommendations detailed in my previous letter would have had the effect of altering your view of the incompetency of the Acting Superintendent of Police, and, I must admit, I felt great disappointment as I did not receive some notice at your hands. In the midst of my despondency, you sang your ditty with whatcheery I read the report of my candidate in your issue of Tuesday last. Indeed, it will be unnecessary to go beyond the first three or four paragraphs to prove that the Acting Superintendent of Police, C. Vandaleur Creagh, is possessed of a master-mind. What young man, let me ask you, placed in a responsible position in an insolvent concern, and where for the credit of the company a favourable aspect of affairs was required, could have conceived so unique a method of amusing their guys, they set to work blaming the place, flattering themselves that they would not, at home, have committed the errors they are conscious of having fallen into. It is not unlikely at all events that she should take a business or a long period, as she was in the habit of going to and fro, as these persons notoriously are.

No doubt there is a great temptation in a place to which people come expressly for the purpose of making money, to estimate everything by a money standard; and it is natural that in such a place, the necessity for attaining pecuniary success should be felt to be more pressing than in the case elsewhere. But still it is not to be overlooked that the main necessity in felt at home, and in every place, as is shown to exist by the pictorial lecture in The Tomahawk, upon which your article is based. It is an exaggeration to say that pecuniary success in these parts of the world is everything; while, on the other hand, I think its importance at home is somewhat underestimated. As one recently returned, long, and with some knowledge of the subject; and I must certainly say I found quite as much pushing and struggling after wealth in England as I have ever seen in China, and think it may also be safely added, with far less chance of success, though the opportunities in China are no doubt at present very much less than they were in former days. It is easy to say that people are likely to get on as well at home as they are in China; but I think, Sir, that those who express this opinion have, for the most part, forgotten how hard a struggle a large number of people in England have to push their way above the most ordinary positions. There is to the resident abroad in the idea of the contented steady-going man at home, something of the charm of "love in a cottage." The idea is pretty, but in practice is disappointing. I hardly think it can be denied that, supposing the same prudence and circumspection were exercised in places like China, as are habitually put in force in home people might be as certain of the moderate and steady success, which is so much praised in your article, here as there. The difference seems mainly to lie in this, that a stranger in the Colony, and that he had gone down from Victoria to Little Hongkong, and had fallen among thieves and been robbed, and therefore was late. Discharged.

TRADE UNIONISM.

Inspector Gradock, in charge of the Western Division at No. 7 station, stated that he appeared as complainant against Leong Afong, a carpenter, residing at No. 27, on the Praya West, having been directed to take out a summons against defendant in the absence of certain men, who complained of having been assaulted and the charge sheet had defendant did with a number of other persons unlawfully and violently assault and beat one Law Afuk, and also one Law Afoo, with intent to intimidate them from working at and exercising their lawful trade and business, as foremen carpenters. Mr. Francis, who appeared for the defendant, claimed his discharge on the ground that the Magistrate had no jurisdiction, which objection was disallowed. The case revealed a combination formed by defendant to prevent the two complainants working in the employ of foremen in Messrs. MacIntyre & Co. ship-building and ship-repairing establishment at West Point. Defendant had been acting as head-foreman for some length of time, and, it would appear, had discharged the head of the firm, and after his discharge the two complainants had been engaged to perform his duty; they had formerly been of the gang under defendant as foreman, and had lived in his shop during that time, and after their engagement as foremen, defendant had warned them both that they must not do his work, or else he was going a considerably less than Tls. 13,000,000. It is, however, satisfactory to find that in the most important part of the trade, manufactured goods, the returns keep up with previous years, and that in the article most steadily consumed by the Chinese, namely, T-Cloths, the import in 1869 was 50 per cent. over that of 1868.

THE San Francisco Minstrels announce a farewell performance this evening, where "Good-bye John" is to be sung for the last time.

It is interesting to note, with reference to the new Convention, that at all events a portion of the Chinese believe in this change of the growing trading facilities, as orders for considerable quantities of foreign goods were sent home on account of native merchants, on the provisions of the Convention becoming known to them.

The broad burgee of Commodore Price received the customary salute yesterday, at 8 a.m. Captain Stanhope, of the Ocean Flag-ship (pro tem.), holding a commission of anterior date to that of the Commodore, the burgee of that officer cannot be exhibited as the outward and visible sign of office until Captain Stanhope quits the Port.

The Overland Mail states that an expedition is fitted out in London for Shanghai, representing the marine insurance companies and Lloyd's underwriters interested in the £50,000 specie, sunk in the wreck of the ship Hamilton Mitchell, of 1,200 tons, which foundered in the China seas, about 50 miles off the entrance of the river to Shanghai, in August last, for the purpose, if possible, of recovering the treasure. The expedition is under the direction of Mr. Lodge.

An interesting incident is related with regard to one of the Student Interpreters in Hongkong. It appears that a lady from Pekin, who speaks the Northern Dialect with fluency, began a conversation in that delightful language with one of the promising young students in the Government service. As a matter of course, the gifted gentleman could not understand a word that was said, and it is stated that things increased H.E. the Governor, that he at once despatched him of to Canton to improve his knowledge of the language. It is to be feared that studying the Canton Dialect will be found a rather difficult mode of mastering that of Pekin.

CUTTING AND WOUNDING.

Lo Achcong, of Kwicabie, a farmer, charged on the 20th March last past, with cutting and wounding, by stabs, Chinese police constable, Ubee Ayee No. 28, on the 20th of July, 1869, was again brought up, and committed for trial at the criminal sessions of the Supreme Court. This long interval of remand was owing to the fact that witness in the Government Civil Hospital, while the wounds he had received were healing. Ubee Ayee said that about 8 p.m. on the 20th July, he was going to visit a number of Chinese constables on board the fishing station at Jardine's, that it was a moonlight night, and when he arrived at the beach at Salt Bay, he had met the prisoner and two other men coming in the opposite direction. He had previous knowledge of Lo Achcong, at the time he was a gardener at Chin Sedaye, and he resided in the village Chim-tse-choy, in Kowloon. On that occasion the prisoner had said to him as he passed, "Where are you going?" to which he had replied, pointing Eastward, "I'm going that way." After that he had continued his way and went down to the water's edge and called a boat. Being low tide, and the water very shallow he had sat down upon a rock to take off his shoes and stockings, in order to wade out to the boat which had answered his call. He had a bundle with him, wrapped in a handkerchief, containing three jackets and 300 cash. He was about to put his stockings into the bundle, when he looked up and saw the prisoner, about 15 feet from him, in the act of throwing a stone at him, the stone being, as it appeared to him, about three or four cattie weight; by this stone he was struck upon the breast. He had started up, and on the instant a man on the land got behind him without his knowledge and stabbed him on the left side of the back, upon this he had made an outcry, "police foot," and at the same time felt himself again stabbed—this time on the left arm, but by which of the two men, who were then both behind him, he did not know. He had continued crying out for the police, and saw the police boat, and also the police from Jardine's coming, he had jumped off the rock also, and left his bundle behind him. At that time prisoner and his two companions ran away, the man who ran towards the main road, who, called by constable Ross, and was tried at the criminal sessions of the Supreme Court in August, and convicted, the prisoner and other man ran towards the Jossehouse at Hoong-fa-long, and escaped. On the 22th March last, he was in the police boat on duty off Tsoong-hoo-man, near Hoong-fa-long, and being close in to the shore, he had seen prisoner walking on the beach, and after some time in pursuit he had caught him, and on his way to the boat the prisoner had offered him compensation for the property he had lost. He had taken him to the police station. Charles Ross, P.C. No. 39, and Cheong Ahloy, W.P.C. No. 87, corroborated the evidence of the first witness, whose wounds were exhibited in court in the course of his narrative. The prisoner, who was duly cautioned in accordance with requirements of Ordinance No. 6, of 1864, stated that he wished to make his defence before his Worship. He denied ever having attacked the witness, but in the first month of the current year he was employed in a garden at Tsoong-lo-wan, and had seen the first witness playing with a Hakka girl, and he had cursed witness away, in consequence of his interference without but brought this false charge; the girl's name was Ah Sei, she lived at Tsoong-kwan, but he was not acquainted with her. He had no witness, for there was no other person present than the girl, the witness, and himself.

CHARGED ON SUSPICION.

Mahomat Bakmeker, of Bombay, Indian cook in the Government Civil Hospital, was placed in the dock, and Mr. Edward Burbidge, wardmaster as above, stated that on Tuesday last he had given prisoner items of coin and jewellery, which he enumerated, stating their value to be about $50, and contained in a box, which prisoner was to place in his strong box, witness having lost the key of his chest. Prisoner slept at the same room with witness. He had been a patient in the hospital, but had been taken on at $5 per month and his chow-chow. He had been there about eight months, they had been occupying the same room half a dozen days, and he decided that he had occupied it before he went to sleep there, it being in reality prisoner's room; he had been obliged to remove his bed into that room, because of a gentleman occupying his proper quarters. The compradore lived in the adjoining room. On the morning of the 20th instant, as he was going out, about 11 a.m., he had asked prisoner if he wished to go out, and his reply had been "No, as he had no money." At that time he had seen him lock, and had got prisoner to give him two $5 notes; he had put back the money into the box, and locked the chest. At the time he had four $5 notes in the chest, so that he had received two of these, there were two left. About 9 p.m. he had returned to the hospital, changed his clothes, and gone on duty. Prisoner was not there then, but about 10 p.m. prisoner came to him in the wards and said that some one had broken open his chest, and taken witness's money and some of his clothes. At 10 o'clock on the 21st instant, prisoner had come to him, and taking him outside the hospital wall, pointed out a bundle which he said contained the clothes he had lost. He picked up the bundle, and put it into his room. Witness believed he could prove prisoner had lost a quantity of money in one of the gaming houses.

Remanded till the 25th instant.

VIOLENTLY DRUNK.

Miles Thomas Watts, of Ireland, seaman of steamer Ann, was charged by Chun Aso, clerk in the "Ti Cheung," with having entered that establishment, for the purpose of a cheque at half the p.m. of the 20th inst., and therein flourished about a bamboo stick, breaking lamp glasses to the value of thirty cents. Joseph Salisbury, P.C. No. 325, stated that on his way to the Police Station with prisoner, he had visited T.P.C. No. 325 to put the prisoner in a cell, and that he was very violent, and had torn his coat, and damaged it to the value of $2. Penjaub Sing, T.P.C. No. 325, stated that on his way to the central prisoner halted, and it required the assistance of another constable to retake him and convey him to the station. Defendant pleaded alcoholic influence, of course, and that he was fined $2, in default three days' imprisonment, and ordered to pay 30 cents amends to the shop, and $2, miners $1.75, to P.C. Salisbury.

OBLIVIOUS.

Christian Thorsen, of Norway, having become so intoxicated as to fancy he lived a little everywhere, and having confessed to that condition of drunkenness wherein memory, locality, and the like fail him, and comparison disappears, was fined $1, in default two days' imprisonment.

NO PASS.

Low Ahim, a wealthy painter and shopkeeper in Wellington Street, was charged by I.P.C. No. 144, Abbis, with being in the Queen's Road, at the cross roads, about 10 p.m., without a pass. The following sing-song rather would have had the effect of altering your view of the incompetency of the Acting Superintendent of Police, and, I must admit, I felt great disappointment as I did not receive some notice at your hands. In the midst of my despondency, you sang your ditty with whatcheery I read the report of my candidate in your issue of Tuesday last. Indeed, it will be unnecessary to go beyond the first three or four paragraphs to prove that the Acting Superintendent of Police, C. Vandaleur Creagh, is possessed of a master-mind. PROPOSED PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

We have more than once noticed the proposal to lay a telegraphic cable between the United States and Eastern Asia, and replied to the objections of some writers who characterized it as a wild and visionary scheme. The following, extracted from the New York Times, shows that the probabilities of its being carried into execution are on the increase:—

The Committee on Commerce has reported without amendment the Bill to encourage telegraphic communication between the Eastern and Western Hemispheres, or in other words, the Pacific Cable Bill. The Bill provides that the starting point for the cable shall be south of Cape San Juan, in Washington Territory. The line which the American and Asiatic Telegraph Company originally estimated, and to which substantially, we presume, they still adhere, was about 5,000 miles long. But the islands of the Pacific offer a great advantage in breaking this long line; and in this respect the enterprise is less hazardous, so far as the establishment of the line is concerned, than its Atlantic predecessors. The distance from San Francisco to Cape San Juan, in Washington Territory, is 700 miles, and this part of the line is already built. There begins the ocean cable proper, which, proceeding north-easterly finds its first station at Sitka, a distance of 600 miles. Thence, proceeding due west 560 miles, it touches Kodiak, where we have or lately had, a military post. Thence, stretching southwesterly along the Alaska peninsula and the Aleutian group of islands, 450 miles, it touches Onnalaska. From that point it leaves American Islands behind, and, 660 miles to the west, reached the island of Attoo, and with 650 miles more, Urup, the latter on the Asiatic shore. Another stretch of 500 miles carries it to Hakodadi, in Japan, where its mission proper as an ocean cable may be said to end. But, with a northerly move of 200 miles, it reaches Poseyat where, on the mainland of Asia, will connect with a branch, already built, of that great Russian overland route which continues to the mouth of the Amoor River. From Poseyat, a southerly trend of 850 miles (also submarine) carries the cable to Nagasaki, whence an easterly branch may continue 600 miles to Yokohama, and a westerly one of 450 to Shanghai, the latter to be connect with the East India Telegraph Company's line, so encircling the globe. These were the stations, we say, and these the distances estimated a year or more ago, and if they have been, or shall hereafter be changed, it can only be in the way of improvement. Even as they are, it is clear that no distance between adjacent points in the long line is greater than 700 miles, which is a trifle in ocean telegraphy. And, again, it is clear that the strict trans Pacific course—say from San Juan to Hakodadi, is only 3,000 miles in length, while that from Sitka to some one of the ports of Japan is about 4,000. It is evident that the project is perfectly practicable, and that it need not be long before we have daily news here in New York from Japan and China, as we have it now from England and California.

MALOO TEA.

The Home papers announce that Mr. Stapleton, M.P., will ask the Secretary for the Board of Trade whether his attention has been called to the importation from China of large quantities of inferior tea. Public notice has been again attracted to the subject by a paragraph in The Times, which with singular propriety came under the heading of "Commission of Scrutiny," and verily the scrutiny is the only fit receptacle for the wretched stuff, which has already been described in our columns under the title of "Maloo Mixture." The exportation of this rubbish from Shanghai must have inflicted an injury on the trade which cannot easily be stopped for. The following is the report, in which it will be seen that Dr. Letheby quotes verbatim the extract from a correspondent's letter which first appeared in our issue of February 7:—

Dr. Letheby, the medical officer of health, presented a most important report on the sale of spurious tea in the City. He stated that, in consequence of information which he had received, he visited the bonded tea warehouses in Seymour-street, Customhouse-yard, and at Nicholson's Wharf, Lower Thames street, where a large quantity of the tea in question was stored, and he had obtained samples from the chests in bond. This tea was described as "fine Moning Congou," from Shanghai, and he had ascertained from analysis that it consists of the rejected leaves of exhausted tea. The leaves, in fact, are first boiled in an impure water from putrefactive decomposition, and do not contain more than a trace of the active principle of tea. The odour of them is very offensive, and when employed in mixing water they produce a nauseous, unwholesome liquid. He had been informed that many thousands of pounds of the article had been imported to this country, and that it would be used for the adulteration of genuine tea. It was in his opinion, quite unfit for human consumption, and the further sale of it should be prevented, if possible. The value of it in the City was referred to in the trade report of The Times of the 15th of February, thus:—"A chop of very common spurious Shanghai packed tea brought 5½d. per lb., and three breaks of better quality 7½d. per lb.;" and in Messrs. Townend Brothers and Borer's Monthly Tea Market Report it was stated that the large deficiency in the total imports of serviceable tea this season was only "brought near our requirements by about 5,000,000 lbs. of the spurious, stinking matter recently sold at public sale at 5½d., and which is likely to reach 6½ the value of former years—say 11d. or 12d. per lb. Dr. Letheby alluded to the advices that had been received in this country from Shanghai in reference to similar tea, and one letter contained the following remarks:—"The rubbish going forward in the shape of refined tea-leaves will astonish you; it is called here Maloo mixture—Maloo being the name of the street leading to the receiving. Along its sides may be seen heaps of this tea being dried in the sun, dogs and pigs walking through through it—so beware of tasting any. This novel luxury is said to cost ten taels per picul, duty paid, and several thousand packages have been shipped to foreign countries." There was no doubt of the spurious and unwholesome quality of the material, and Dr. Letheby recommended that the subject should be placed in the hands of the Solicitor, with the view of stopping the further sale of the article in the City, in accordance with the provisions of the Act of Parliament for preventing the adulteration of articles of food and drink.

This met with the general approval of the Commissioner and the matter was placed in the hands of the Solicitor (Mr. Under-Sheriff Baylis), to be dealt with as might appear advisable in the public interest.

A case arising out of this was under investigation on the 28th at Guildhall. By order of Dr. Letheby six chests, containing part of a large quantity of tea-dust and sweepings, had been seized at Nicholson's Wharf; but when the officers went to remove them, an embargo was laid on them by the Customs, until the duty was paid, which duty just equalled the estimated value of the stuff. The magistrate (Alderman Stone) said he could not deal with the case until the chests were brought before him, and it was adjourned to the 11th March.

An actress connected with one of the London theatres, who is a great favourite with the gallery, was being complimented in the green-room upon the blackness of her hair. "Why, bless [illegible] she replied with the usual flattering politeness of theatricals. "Dyed?" repeated another speaker; "why, favorites at your age; you are not yet thirty-two." "No," said the lady; "but you know when the eagle's low dye early."—Court Journal.

LATER TELEGRAMS.

REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.

SUPPLIED TO THE "DAILY PRESS."

CALCUTTA, 4th April, 1870.

Sir Richard Temple delivered his Financial Statement on Saturday.

The Budget Exposition is divided into three parts.

1st.—The actual estimate for 1868-1869.
2nd.—The regular estimate for 18 3-1870.
3rd.—The Budget estimate for 1870-1871.

Railway receipts and charges are shown in gross for all three years.

	For 1868-69.	1869-70.	1870-71.
Gross receipts were	£13,057,668,	£52,013,000,	£52,327,776.
Ordinary Expenditure,	£34,191,673,	£37,865,970,	£32,161,316.
Deficit incurred for Ordinary Expenditure,	£7,751,930,	£853,351,	£163,440.

In 1869-70 the average rate of Income Tax has been one and a half per cent., whilst that for 1870-71 is to be at the rate of three and one-eighth per cent.

No other change in taxation.

The Salt Duties remain as in 1869-70.

Export duties on Rice to be retained intact.

The Opium Revenue for 1870-1871 is estimated at £22,281, against £7,533,800 received in 1869-1870.

The Estimates for the Army and public works Expenditure show a considerable reduction.

It is not intended to raise any new loan for India at present.

The average circulation of paper currency in 1869-70 amounted to 101 millions. It is proposed to invest a larger amount in Government securities.

BOMBAY, 4th April.

His Highness the Maharajah of Kuppoortollah (retro inscribed) left India on a visit to England, is returning to Bombay from Aden in a dying state.

LONDON, 5th April.

The Revenue of Great Britain for the year is 75¾ millions sterling.

The French Mail steamer Donnai, left Aden for Galle on Sunday, the 3rd inst.

The Prospectus of a Dutch Company has been issued. The Company proposes trading through the Suez Canal to the East Indies.

The English Revenue for the first quarter of the year exceeds the Estimates by £97,688 sterling.

The Bill for the Preservation of Peace in Ireland has passed the House of Lords.

The strike of the French operatives at Greuzot is assuming a formidable character.

The Committee of Privileges of the House of Lords has given judgment in the Wicklow Peerage case against the claimant. Sir George Grey and Sir Henry Storks' report on the Irish Land Bill is progressing but slowly. It is asserted that Mr. Bright is no better, and that he would not be able to resume his duties as President of the Board of Trade.

ONE OF MACAULEY'S ECCENTRICITIES.

In the course of the reminiscences brought out by the burning of the famous old Star and Garter Inn, on Richmond Hill, near London, one very strange story of Lord Macaulay is told, which will hardly find general credence until authenticated. We give it in the words of the exuberant Daily Telegraph:

"To that same coffee room, so the legends tell—and 'the oldest inhabitant,' in the shape of a waiter, was ready to testify to the truth of the tradition—there was wont to come on Sunday afternoons a gentleman of rather broad and upright stature, with gray hair and a very large shirt collar. He would dine, always alone, at a particular corner table; he would take his wine as a gentleman should; and, after dinner, it was his humour to build up before him a lofty pyramid of tumblers and wine glasses, which he capped with a decanter. This pandorean crowning of the edifice usually resulted in the topping over of the entire structure over irresistible sconce. Then the gray-haired gentleman would rise, pay his bill, including broken glass, and depart chewing the cud of sweet and bitter fancies in the shape of a toothpick. The waiters knew him very well. He was Thomas Babington, Lord Macaulay."

EARTHQUAKES IN BOSTON.

The recent shaking up of Boston has set antiquarians to searching the records for previous earthquakes in that vicinity, and it is discovered that they used to be quite frequent. The first of which there is any account was on June 1st, 1638—a shock shaking the ships in the harbor and frightening all Boston from its propriety. This shock extended to the West Indies. The earth was more or less disturbed at times from June 1st, 1633, to January 14th 1639, when there was another sharp shock. March 5th, 1643, there was another slight earthquake. There was a great earthquake in 16 9, of which no particulars have been preserved. Here are dates of other earthquakes: January 26th, 1663; April 3rd, 1668; 2 o'clock in 1715; the greatest earthquake known up to the time occurred, October 29th to 30th, 1726; April 12th, 1730, another shock; December 13th same year, another; two dates, September 5th 1729, and February 6th, 1737; November 18th, 1755, came what is known as the great earthquake. During this shaking fifteen hundred chimneys were toppled over; the gable ends of fifteen brick buildings were partially thrown down (the bricks down to the eaves were distributed in the street), and the same on Fennel Hall, supported on a wooden frame 80 inches in diameter, was broken in two feet from the top and fell to the ground. There were subsequent earthquakes and shocks July 8, 1737; March 12, 1753; November 1, 1761; November 29, 1782; November 29, 1783; these were thanksgiving presents, no doubt). January 26, 1786; November 29 (again), 1786; May 18, 1791; March 11, 1800; November 3, 1810; September 7, 1817; October 12, 1817, and August 25, 1816.

From all this we see that any assumption or surprise on the part of the Bostonians at the recent shock is pure assumption, and nothing else. The record shows that Boston is an old hand at the earthquake business. In fact, New York is the only considerable city in the world in which no such thing as an earthquake was ever known.—New York Post.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Duke of Edinburgh, while in camp in India, had £1,500 in notes stolen.

M. de Lesseps has contradicted the rumour that the Suez Canal Company contemplate effecting a new loan.

A LUCKY COMPOSITOR.—James Selby Lewis, formerly a London compositor, has turned out to be the rightful heir-at-law to the Whaddon Hall estates in Buckinghamshire. The rents of these estates have been received by a trustee under the Court of Chancery since 1,772, and the principal and interest are now nearly three millions sterling.

PIPES AND LIGHT DUES.—The Falmouth Chamber of Commerce held its annual meeting on February 25, when it was stated that the Council had decided to petition Parliament in favour of abolishing compulsory pilotage, and also light dues. It was stated that it was proposed to land at the port cattle exported from South America.

The Secretary of State for War is of opinion that the high expenses of the metropolitan volunteer regiments are caused in a great measure by there being too many corps, each competing against the other. A circular has therefore been issued to the commanding officers, asking them to consider whether certain weak corps could not be amalgamated, and what arrangements could be made for assigning to each corps a certain parish or district. It is also suggested that there should be a better distribution of rifle ranges.

The Billiard Championship has been won after a close game by Cook. The largest break during the match was 80, by Cook, the smaller pockets completely putting an end to the celebrated cul de sac stroke breaks. Both players gave up all attempts to play for a spot break after one or two attempts. Cook has been christened by Roberts, junior, and it is said that Bennett will challenge the winner. Since the Championship match, Cook has played two matches with Roberts, junior, both of which he won, but in one case by only 30 points.

A SINGULAR AFFAIR.—The German papers report the following singular occurrence:—Some time ago a middle-aged man entered a roadside saloon at Koethen, in the principality of Anhalt. At length he won 11,000 ducats, but on his attention being called to the money he made no response, and one of the attendants going to him found him sitting dead in his chair. The keeper at once entered the money, on the ground that there could be no contract between the dead and the living. The relatives of the deceased have taken action for the money.

At Piqua, Ohio, recently, a young woman who had been jilted by a man shot him in a Roman Catholic Church. He was able to run away, but she followed, and would have killed him had not a policeman protected him.

Extracts.

A Scene in Congress.

Two witnesses, who had refused to answer the questions of an investigating committee, and had afterwards thought better of it, and given the information sought, were to be discharged from the custody of the Sergeant at Arms. The prisoners were of the lowest grade of New York politicians. One of them, a good humoured, dissolute ruffian of twenty-three, was so precocious in depravity that he had already been an alderman, and had afterwards been concerned in the congenial business of distributing forged naturalization papers. I became acquainted with this fellow citizen during his detention in the lobby, and he informed me, as I contemplated the diamond pin in his shirt, that he would have come on to Washington that winter, not as a prisoner, but as a member of Congress, if he had been old enough. This was a flight of the imagination. The despots of the Democratic party in the city of New York take excellent care that the really desirable things at their disposal fall to the men who can pay for them. They give the wretches whose votes they employ showers of Roman candles about election time, but they do not pave their streets, nor remove their heaps of garbage. They have no objections to a poor devil's picking up a diamond pin or so as alderman or councilman; but when it comes to member of Congress—O dear, no! they rarely take such thing such things even for themselves. These prisoners being residents of New York, there was an opportunity for a few members to make a little home capital by publicly taking their part. One after another the city members, in the view of the whole House and the crowded galleries, went up to the ex-alderman, as he stood in front of the Speaker, shook hands with him, smiled upon him, and exchanged jocular observations with him. A chair was brought for his convenience, and while his case was under consideration he held a levee in the aisle, sitting; while the Sergeant-at-arms, representing the authority of the House, stood behind him. Mr. James Brooks paid him his respects, nothing benignantly, Mr. Fernando Wood bowed with courtly grace, and uttered friendly words, Mr. Robinson (ah! Richelieu, you deserve better company!) was merry with him. A member moved that one of the prisoners be "discharged from custody." "Why not say honourably discharged?" asked a Democratic brother; which, of course, led to the expected wrangle. But the main effort was to get the ex-alderman clear without his paying the costs of his arrest and transportation to Washington—seventy-five dollars. Now mark the purposed waste of time. It was moved that the prisoner be discharged on paying the costs of his arrest. A Democratic member moved to amend by striking out the words, "on paying the costs of arrest," alleging that the witness was a poor man, and could not procure so large a sum. The diamond pin glittered at this remark. I think, too, that the officer who had had charge of the prisoner the night before must have smiled: for the young alderman had not been abstemious, and he had broken one of the commandments in an expensive manner. The question was put. A few scattered "ayes" responded, and these were followed by such a simultaneous and emphatic roar of "noes" as ought to have settled the question. A Democratic member demanded the yeas and nays; and, as it was doubtful whether this demand would be sustained, he called for tellers on the question whether the yeas and nays should be taken or not. Monstrous robbery of precious time. First, two members take their stand in front of the Speaker, and the whole House, first the yeas, and then the nays, pass between them—a curious scene of huddle and confusion. The tellers reporting that the demand is sustained, the ayes and noes are ordered; which, with the time already consumed, wastes three-quarters of an hour. The amendment, as everyone knew it would be, was voted down. Nothing had yet been done in the case. An amendment had been offered and rejected—no more. The main question now recurred: Shall the prisoner be discharged on paying the costs? The sense of the house was known to every creature; but the few Democrats from New York, not regarding the convenience and dignity of the house, but thinking only of the Sixth Ward and the possible effect of their conduct there, must needs repeat this costly farce. Again they forced members to file between tellers; again they condemned two thousand persons to endure the tedium of the roll-call; again they compelled anxious expectants to chafe and fret for three-quarters of an hour. —"The Pressure upon Congress," in the Atlantic Monthly.

Egyptian Tradesmen.

The dealer who has got you immediately exhibits shawls, necklaces, slippers, robes, and so in, recommending the same furiously. You admire them all, but fix your eyes on something, a sandal-wood fan perhaps, which you think you will buy. The conscientious tradesman, who has been watching your look, immediately resolves to add about eighty per cent. to the price, and asks you three and a half napoleons, assuring you that it will ruin him to part with the article at that figure, but that he has taken a liking to you, and is resolved that you shall be gratified. You think even the three and a half rather strong; but the vendor, who is an impulsive, openhearted fellow, rather than you shall be balked, bids you, in Allah's name, take the fan for sixty-five francs—why should two or three miserable livres prevent the dealing? You pay your money, but are not without misgivings that a little more patience and firmness might have procured you a better bargain. There are some indications that you have been mistaken for a flat—as, for example, the gathering of a very importunate crowd around you, and the shoutings of some individuals in that crowd to respectable merchants further on, who, on hearing the shouts, assiduously unlock their caskets and expand their gimcracks. You are a little abashed at first, and shew symptoms of hesitation, but, recollecting that this will never do for a free born Briton among a gang of ignorant savages, you resolve to shew the villains that you know what you are about, and that if you suffer yourself to be imposed upon it is only because such is your pleasure. So you swagger suddenly up to a bawling shopman, don't wait for him to entice you, but at once take up a gold necklace, hung with sequins and crescents, and demand the price. "Four napoleons," replies the dealer, who can speak very badly every European language, and has carefully got up his English numerals. "Of course, then, it is gold," you say. "Oh no—silver gilt," replies the just Mohammedan; "in gold, fifteen napoleons," and he spreads out his five fingers three times. This candour rather shakes your resolution; still, for the sake of your own self-respect you must suggest abatement. Three napoleons you remark, are quite enough. The seller signifies by a gesture that he is amused by the facetiousness which you are pleased to exhibit. Secretly you waver, but you deem it expedient not to give in too quickly, so you turn away to some other object and begin to examine it; whereupon the Arab sets to work with diligence wrapping the necklace in soft paper and packing it in a box of card—you soon see why. He presses the box to you, with a smile, saying, "Give tree." You got off a napoleon any way, but still you think these fellows' prices have a wonderful margin, the extent of which it will be well to ascertain. So you walk on, your crowd of followers having increased, and the shouts sent before you up the alley being louder than before. You want another necklace and so you look at one. Five napoleons are asked. Two, you say. Impossible, is the reply. Two is enough. No, four. You try your former trick and turn away to other goods. Your diversion is permitted for a moment, but in a minute the necklace is again pushed before you. "Four, cheap!" You turn away impatiently, when a bystander interferes. "Gold, good, four." You turn savagely round at this intruder, who, however, only smiles and enters into an energetic conversation with the master of the shop, then he looks towards you and says persuasively, "Tree." This is rather disgusting and you move away. Your crowd, however, remains, and there is no shouting. You feel yourself almost forsaken as you approach a stall on the other side, where a grave Turk preparing for you takes his pipe from his mouth. But you are not permitted to speak to him at present. Your whole former following moves up, headed by the owner of the last necklace, who holds out the ornament, saying, "Give, give." You are angry, and refuse to be interrupted; you stalk resolutely forward. "Two, give?" persists the vendor. "Go to the devil!" you say. Then the Turk in front comes to your aid and exhibits his treasures. The other fellow is disappointed, and withdraws; but the gentleman who so kindly interfered in your behalf demands bakshesh, which you if you are wise, administer with your cane. Finally you buy a necklace from the Turk for thirty francs, which is somewhere about its value in Cairo. The crowd come up again, but perceiving that your education has advanced, take part with your now, and enjoy the discomfiture of the traders, whom you treat without ceremony, depreciating their wares, and offering for them a tenth of what they ask.—Blackwood's Magazine.

ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY.

SECURITY
SHOULD BE THE FIRST CONSIDERATION IN INSURANCE TRANSACTIONS.

THE Directors of the Royal Insurance Company have the pleasure of supplying the following information to the public, as evidence of the ample security they afford to their assurers:—

THE CAPITAL of the Company, available for the purpose of meeting any unusual calamity happening to the Assured, is
TWO MILLIONS STERLING.
The amount actually paid up is £288,495. This, with the Accumulated Funds in Hand, makes the invested resources of the Company upwards of ONE MILLION SIX HUNDRED THOUSAND POUNDS, which amount is invested as follows:—
Invested Funds of the Royal Insurance Company, 30th June, 1869.

Real Property owned by the Company	£219,571 11 3
Mortgages on Freehold Property	33,500 0 0

United States Government Stocks	101,330 7 10
Canada Bonds and Canada Dominion Stock	31,100 11 6
Short Loans on first-class English Dividend-paying Stocks, with margins from 20 to 50 per cent. on market values	477,195 0 0
Loans on Security of Life Policies	63,933 8 5
	£1,672,356 16 11

The above is a complete list of the Investments of the Company at the date specified, in addition to which the funds are still further increased, by amounts constantly varying, at different periods, in the hands of the Bankers and the Company's Agents. At 31st Dec. 1868, these stood at £168,089 2 0
For the satisfaction of the Public, the whole of the Securities belonging to the Company are annually submitted to the careful scrutiny of two independent Auditors, and the following is an Extract from their Report to the last Annual Meeting:—
"The whole of your Books have been Audited—every Document, every Account, every Voucher, your Bank-book, and every Security—all have been most carefully kept, and there is not one doubtful Security in the whole."
THE ACCUMULATIONS OF THE LIFE DEPARTMENT,
After payment of Losses, Annuities and Expenses of every description, have been as follows:—

Funds in Hand at the last Quinquennial Valuation, 31st Dec., 1864	£621,434 15 5
Added to 31st December, 1865	103,146 7 3
" " " 1866	124,105 7 5
" " " 1867	128,583 5 10
" " " 1868	144,945 12 2
Total Accumulation of the Life Department on 31st December, 1868, exclusive of Shareholders' Capital	£1,122,275 8 1

The Directors also think it desirable to State that THE BUSINESS OF THE "ROYAL" HAS NEVER BEEN AMALGAMATED WITH THAT OF ANY OTHER COMPANY,
And that the LIABILITY of its Shareholders is UNLIMITED.
